

PASSIONATE POLITICS: The Life & Work of Charlotte Bunch

A New One-Hour Documentary By Tami Gold

THIS NEW FILM tells the story of Charlotte Bunch, from idealistic young civil rights organizer to lesbian activist, to internationally-recognized leader of a campaign to put women's rights on the global human rights agenda. Charlotte has been both a product and creator of her times: every chapter in her life is a chapter in the story of modern feminist activism, from its roots in the 1960's struggles for social justice to international campaigns against gender-based violence today.

Church Center Chapel

Extraordinary documentary that puts body and life into the feminist idea that the personal is political!

*Rosalind Petchesky, Distinguished Professor of Political Science
Hunter College, Graduate Center, CUNY*

Wonderful film! Charlotte's unwavering and long-term commitment to making the world a better place serves as an inspiration for women around the world.

*June Zeitlin, Director
CEDAW Education Project-The Leadership Conference on Civil and Human Rights*

Looking through the lens of Charlotte's life and work is an exciting way to tell the story of the global women's movement. I am imagining it being used with the young feminist leadership training program run by the Fiji Women's Rights Movement.
