

THE CENTER FOR WOMEN'S GLOBAL LEADERSHIP

invites you to an

Economics Workshop: Applying a Human Rights Perspective to Macroeconomic Policy

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 2011
(4-8 PM)

Church Center for the United Nations
777 UN Plaza (44th and 1st Ave), 10th Floor

RSVP by Wednesday, February 23rd to cwgl@rci.rutgers.edu

Note: Light dinner will be served.

AN RSVP CONFIRMS YOUR ATTENDANCE FOR THE FULL FOUR HOUR WORKSHOP.

Please join us for a strategic workshop on the use of human rights as a moral framework in macroeconomic policy and as a concrete legal tool to hold governments and other actors accountable to guarantee social and economic rights. The workshop aims to provide women's rights organizations with an introduction to methodology that allows us to evaluate macroeconomic policy by utilizing social and economic human rights.

Co-Sponsors:

Association for Women's Rights in Development (AWID),
Development Alternatives with Women for a New Era (DAWN),
International Network for Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (ESCR-Net), International Association for Feminist Economics (IAFFE), and the Urban Justice Center

160 Ryders Lane, New Brunswick, New Jersey 08901, www.cwgl.rutgers.edu, cwgl@rci.rutgers.edu