Michel Martin
NPR Host and Commentator

Why I Want You to Tell Me More:
On Bringing Outsiders In

Tuesday, March 10 · 7:00 PM
Trayes Hall · Douglass Campus Center
100 George Street, New Brunswick, NJ

“The consequences of this [pay] gap are enormous and obvious. Less income means less ability to pay for the kinds of support necessary to work at any level, let alone an elite level. Less income means accumulating fewer assets, which in turn affects the ability to help offspring create wealth, gain education, or provide support in old age.”
— National Journal, 7/26/14

“My real charge to people is look around and see who’s missing. And try to invite that person.”
— On Being, 10/2/14

NPR News host covering topics including education, families, faith, race, gender and social issues
Hosted “Tell Me More” on NPR 2007-14
ABC News correspondent 1996-2006
Former reporter for The Washington Post and The Wall Street

General admission free.
RSVP required.
Scan or call (848) 932-8018

This event is co-sponsored by: (list in formation)
Rutgers University co-sponsors: Center for Women and Work * Center for Women’s Global Leadership * Center on Violence Against Women & Children * Department of History * Department of Women’s and Gender Studies * Douglass Residential College * Edward J. Bloustein School of Planning and Public Policy * Institute for Research on Women * Institute for Women and Art * Institute for Women’s Leadership * Office for the Promotion of Women in Science, Engineering, and Mathematics * Paul Robeson Cultural Center * Rutgers University Libraries * School of Public Affairs and Administration

Other co-sponsors: Association of Black Women Lawyers of New Jersey * National Association of Social Workers, New Jersey Chapter * Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., State of New Jersey